A PLANT FOR PLACERS.

Tickahoo and Good Hope Bars to Be Developed.

COLONEL HITE'S OPERATIONS

The Ups and Downs of Placer Mining on the Colorado.

Park City Ore Shipments—Fish Springs—Miners Amend Their By-Laws—The Black Diamond Election—The New Ontario Plant.

Colonel Ben Hite of Wichita, Kans., was, with his brother Cass, has been operating on Colorado river bars with varying success for several years, arrived in town from Denver yesterday and a HERALD reporter found him at the Cullen last evening. Colonel Hite is a man of fine physique, and as bluff and hearty as the typical western miner.

"We began operating at Dandy crossing some five or six years ago," he said, "and first tried the experiment of bringing water out of Trachyte creek. The fluming was high above ground, and owing to lack of timbering, was blown down. At that time there were no roads in the country and it was next to impossible to get material there. We next tried a steam plant at Tickahoo, about twelve miles below Dandy crossing, and this, too, was a failure, owing to the lack of fuel, and each time we got water, however, we proved that the gravel was rich, and so made another trial. This time we operated on Good Hope bar about two miles below Tickahoo, where we raised water by means of a current water wheel. We did considerable work in this way by taking the water from the river in a canal and giving it a fall into the wheel. But unfortunately the mouth of the canal was not properly protected, and a sudden rise tore out the mouth of the canal. It was rebuilt at considerable expense. We proved that the gravel was rich, and so made even by working it in a small way.

"The only difficulty experienced thus far has been in getting a proper plant that will give a constant supply of water. Like others experimenting on gravel, we have made many mistakes, and at times circumstances, which we could not control, have operated against us.

"Now we have succeeded in enlisting the aid of capitalists, who, after a thorough investigation, are satisfied that the bars are very rich, and they are willing to take hold and assist us in getting to work on a permanent basis. I am not at liberty just now to state who these parties are, nor what they will do, but I can say that the deal will be closed up and we expect to show to the world in a short time that we have not worked on the property in vain. In other words, we will show our claims as to these being a valuable gold property are true. It will cost from $15,000 to $25,000 to put in a proper plant at Tickahoo, and we will give an abundance of water to cover Nos. 1 and 2, and Good Hope, or about 8,000,000 cubic yards of gravel. To work the bars separately, the plant at each would cost much less than this, but the plan of working them as a whole would be cheaper in the long run. We have some bars further up, which are not quite so extensive, and it will take from $5,000 to $8,000 to put water on them.

"As to the San Juan gold fields. We have known for a long time that there is gold there, but not in sufficient quantity to make the bars very valuable. I visited the fields with Mr. Goss and the Rio Grande party a short time ago, and they reached the same conclusion that I had formed. The party stopped at our camp and at all the important bars, and they panned the gravel themselves, and have reported at Denver that the bars in the Colorado river from Dandy crossing to Hall's crossing, are very rich, and they regard it as the great coming placer gold field."

Colonel Hite leaves tomorrow for Dandy crossing.

A Fine Specimen.

One of the finest specimens of gold ore was shown yesterday by F. A. Stebbins. It was from his mine Leo, on Gold Hill, in the Deep Creek country, and Mr. Stebbins states that it would run away with a ton of gold.

He says he has a body of it, and will leave in a few days for that country to push developments on the property.

DEMAND FOR ASPHALTUM.

Buffalo Streets to Be Paved With the Utah Product.

FISH SPRINGS MEETING.

The Miners Elect a Recorder and Amend the By-Laws.

The Asphaltum Company's New Refining Plant—The Home Life Insurance Company Disincorporates—Mr. Ames Retires From Business.

There will be an important meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to consider the calling of a mining congress, to convene in this city in the spring.

Every business man interested in the welfare of the city, every mining man who has at heart the prosperity of the mines, the agents of mining machinery, the representatives of the various railroads and the men with recent inventions for the reduction of ores should be present.

The action of this meeting will decide whether the convention shall be called or not.

WANT OUR ASPHALTUM.

The Streets of Buffalo to Be Paved With the Utah Product.

The streets of Buffalo, N. Y., are to be paved with Utah asphalt.

Messrs. Culmer & Jennings received an order by telegraph yesterday for 350 tons of rock asphalt to pave the streets of Buffalo from the German Rock Asphalt company.

The president and secretary of this company visited Utah in person to test the Utah product, and after a thorough examination of the pavement on Richards avenue were convinced that it was a superior article to that which they had been importing from Germany.

This company has already laid eight miles of asphalt pavement in Buffalo and their endorsement of Utah material will help to introduce it into the eastern market.

One of the principal points of the order was their insistence that Culmer & Jennings should agree to supply their orders in the future at a stipulated price.

The Washack Paving company has expended upwards of $60,000 in developing their mines and are now erecting a large refining plant in this city that will turn out 150 tons of mastic per day.

When the plant is completed it will give work to a force of thirty hands, and 100 men will be required in the mines to quarry the rock to keep the works going at their full capacity.

A DISINCORPORATION.

The Home Life Insurance Company Goes Out of Business.

Attorney Young presented the application of the Home Life Insurance company of Utah, asking that they be allowed to disincorporate.

Mr. W. J. Bateman, secretary of the company was examined and stated that all claims had been paid in full and the remaining assets divided equally among the stockholders.

Upon the further showing that all business and preparations for the dissolution had been regularly made, the application was granted.

Joseph F. Smith was president, Heber J. Grant vice-president and W. J. Bateman, secretary.

MR. AUER RETIRES.

He Sells His Interest in the Occidental to Mr. Guernsey.

A change was made in the management of the Occidental saloon yesterday by Charles Auer selling to Rhoda Murphy Guernsey all of his right, title and interest to the building, fixtures, lease, stock, etc., of the Occidental for the sum of $27,000.

The firm name was originally Auer & Murphy. Mr. Murphy died several years ago and at a later date his widow married Mr. Guernsey. She now purchases Mr. Auer's interest and Mr. Guernsey will assume the management of the business.

"I had no special reason for selling," said Mr. Auer, "other than I felt myself much obliged to the other party. He was a good one and I took him. I will remain with Mr. Guernsey for several weeks, after which I will go to California and make an extended visit to my sister. With the exception of a visit to New Orleans and the Centennial in 1876, I have been continuously at work here since 1872, and I am entitled to a prolonged vacation. I will not leave Salt Lake permanently, however, I have real estate and other interests and I expect to live out the remainder of my days and die here.

Whether I will again enter business I do not yet know, but it will be difficult for one who has led the active life I have to remain idle for any length of time."

A Glass Works Inquiry.

Mayor Boardley yesterday received a letter from a glass manufacturing company in Indiana asking for information regarding Salt Lake. If they can secure proper facilities and material for carrying on their business near Salt Lake, they will establish a factory here which will employ 100 hands and have a weekly output in products of $20,000. The matter was referred to Secretary Sears of the chamber of commerce.
